APCSS curriculum inspires Fellows to 'Change the World'

To lead off ASC 14-3, I put some photos to the song, "Who We Are" by (the) Imagine Dragons. I always enjoy doing this on the first day of our long courses, and for their commencements. My intent with this song is two-fold: to introduce our people and the Center; and put forth the hypothesis that the Fellows of ASC 14-3 can and will change the world for the better.

The song includes the chorus, "They say we're crazy..." Some think we are crazy at APCSS to believe we can actually change the world. But, I have seen a lot of evidence we can, and we are. This change is the result of the collective efforts of staff, faculty, Fellows, and workshop participants. This issue of Currents chronicles some of that positive change and is intended to inform and inspire your future efforts.

Sincerely,

Lt. Gen. (Ret.) Dan Leaf
Director, APCSS
